

Márcia Maria Pereira Rendeiro

PhD, Public Health

Dentist. Master's degree in Social Dentistry and PhD in Public Health.

Experience in Public Health Management with focus in the following issues: evaluation of health programs and services, public health policies and Telemedicine/Telehealth. Current Executive Coordinator at SUS Open University/MS/UERJ (UNASUS); Teleodontology Coordinator at Telehealth UERJ – Telehealth Brazil Networks (Brazilian Ministry of Health); Manager at SMSDC Rio Telemedicine Project, by Rio de Janeiro City Hall.

E-curriculum: <http://buscatextual.cnpq.br/buscatextual/visualizacv.do?id=P1347943>

Project: ISfTeH Teleodontology Working Group

Aims: including Odontology in the activities promoted to spread Telehealth among new professionals, and also contributing to its development, producing innovation, knowledge, techniques, results and impacts. Methodology: Introduction and discussion about production, availability and use of technological innovation in Odontology education, through interactive multimeans, and analyzing its efficiency; Development of multicentered researches to obtaining solutions for education and research in teleassistance and telediagnosis, as well; Roundtables about clinical cases using second opinion as a tool, and via seminars presentations added to the sharing of knowledge in Telemedicine and Telehealth; Partaking in the Multipoint Webconference Session during Med-e-Tel event. Technology available: videoconference and telepresence rooms. Outcomes up to the present: development in activities concerning tele-education, teleconsulting and formative second opinion, with the involvement of 700 oral surgeons.